Let us cite a typical case—that of Mr. R. F. Nitskke, of 1246 Spsight St. Madison, Wis. There had been eight physicians on this case and it got so extreme that he finally had one of the last symptoms; namely, failing eyesight. In January, 1997, the doctors admitted that nothing further could be done, and they sent him to Eureka Springs, Arkansas. He continued to get worse, the dropsy finally reaching the stomach, heart and lungs. At one time tests showed albumen as high as 75 per cent.

"O, Lord, don't disappoint us," prayed the Triune Immersionists at intervals during the meeting, which they held throughout last night in the "Bethel," their building opposite the Chapel Ashdod.

While there was no note of real wavering among the members of the Latter Reign of the Apostolic Church, there was a tendency among some of the mod of the world were not exactly in accordance with their belief, and that they would not be surprised if it were delayed.

The services during the night were conducted quietly, and no outsiders or "sinners" were admitted. Early today the exhausted believers dispersed to various places nearby, some to get a little rest after their exhausting vigil, others to secure a little food.

from an astronomical stanapoint.

Conditions Favorable.
Theplanet, just at this time, is fairly high on the horizon, and it is confidently expected that excellent observations will be recorded of the surface markings and the polar caps. The satellites are rather close to the planet and as trononomers say that some remarkable disturbances exercised by the planet, including curlous paralleizing effects, have already been noted.
To observers studying different portions of Mars the inner moon appears in quite different positions in the sky.

The inner room, which is in the glare of the planet most of the time, occupies only seven hours and a half in its revolution, while the planet itself is a slow mover, turning on its axis in about twenty-three hours. This Possibility Excites Interest.

Probably the reason people in general show so much interest in Mars results from the contention between astronomers as to the possibility of its being inhabited. Certain it is that in many ways Mars resembles this earth. It has atmosphere, seasons, land and water, storms, clouds and mountains.

Baker WIII Submit Evidence to Com-missioner.

WASHINGTON, September 25.—
Shoul the evidence submitted, by the post-office inspectors against Henry M. Lewis, secretary and treasurer of the National Trust Company of Washington, be considered sufficient by water, storms, clouds and mountains. Snow and ice cover both its poles and produce great white patches at these points, and at regular intervals these become less distinct.

Taken in connection with the so-called canals, this has been the basis for the hypothesis that the planet is inhabited by sentient beings, older in the life of worlds than the population of the earth, who, by great engineering works for the conservation of their natural resources, are fighting a gallant but inevitably losing battle to sustain life on their dying world.

The inner moon of Mars, previously referred to, is only 3.700 miles from the surface of the planet and revolves around it in seven hours and a half, showing all the phases of our moon in one night. To an inhabitant of Mars, it must have the appearance of an enormous shooting star slowly moving through the sky, and it would certainly take the breath away if one ever saw anything like it from this earth.

Astronomers hope, while these favorthe National Trust Company of Washington, be considered sufficient by United States Commissioner Taylor, before whom a hearing will begin next Monday, to warrant holding Lewis for the grand jury, no action can be taken to that end until after October 6, when the grand jury for the October term of court will be impaneled. The present grand jurors will be discharged October 4, and their time will be so taken up in the consideration of cases already in United States Attroncy Baker's office that no new matter will be submitted to them. Summer after summer Dr. Caldwell is in receipt of hundreds of letters from mothers all over the country thanking him for keeping their children in good health these hot days. The way is simple for any mother. If the child breaks out with sores, if it scratches itself, if it has no appetite and doesn't sleep well, if its bowels are constipated or too loose, do not become alarmed, but try a dose at bedtime of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. There is no remedy so effective in the digestive ailments of children, and so well liked by them for its pleasant taste and non-griping, than this very same DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. Ask the druggist who has your confidence and he will tell you that more mothers are buying this remedy today than any other. It is not to be compared DR. CALDWELL'S to the ordinary laxitive, because this contains tonic properties that help to build up the child; nor is it to be compared to salts and purgative waters, for they do but temporary good, nor to tablets or pills, which often gripe and are difficult to take. It is especially the right remedy for women and old folks because of its gentle action. Your druggist will sell you a bottle for 50 cents or $1.00, according to size.

Those who have never yet used DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN and would like to make a test of it before buying in the regular way of their drugglet, can obtain a FRES RAMPLE BOTTLE either for themselves or any member of their family by sending name and address to the doctor. The sample will be sent to your home free of sharpe. In this way you are find out what it will do without cost.
